Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Wednesday 02 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Warm and sunny but some cloud for the east, windy.

Today:
Dry and bright with some good spells of sunshine. Warm or very warm again, but cooler over Caithness and Easter Ross with brisk southeast winds, some patchy haar possible here. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Tonight:
Haar setting in again for Easter Ross and Caithness and it may spread west driven by the southeasterly winds. Otherwise dry and mainly clear in the west. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Thursday:
A few early showers are possible in the west but these will be short lived. Stubborn low cloud still possible around the Caithness coast but dry, warm and sunny elsewhere. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
More cloud in the west on Friday with the threat of a shower, sunny and dry in the east. Bright with showers on Saturday and rain in the west Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.